ASCENSION OF THE LORD

Our first reading is from the Book of Acts. In fact, it is the beginning of that Book. Acts was written by St. Luke. It is a continuation of his Gospel in many ways. We do not learn that much about Luke from the New Testament. Most historians agree that he was a doctor; he was a Gentile; and he was a companion of St. Paul.

Acts is basically the continuation of Jesus’ work as described in the Gospels. In effect it describes how the Good News traveled from Jerusalem to Rome. Our readings to- day are filled with reminders that Jesus’ work is not completed. He commissioned His fol- lowers to continue it after His Ascension into Heaven. Among those commissioned so to speak is each of us. The Lord’s work continues from that day to today. However, for it to continue and for the love He shared and displayed to be the factor it needs to be in our par- ish and in the Church and in the world it is reliant upon us.

It was St. Teresa of Avila who wrote, “Christ has no body now but yours. No hands, no feet on earth but yours. Yours are the eyes through which He looks compassion on this world. Yours are the feet with which He walks to do good. Yours are the hands through which He blesses all the world. Yours are the hands, yours are the feet, yours are the eyes, you are His Body. Christ has no body now on earth but yours.”

CALL

My dad could whistle so loudly you could hear its piercing sound three blocks away. When we heard his signature tune, we'd come running home. That was just one way my dad was a good shepherd to us. He also guided us to ignore the calls of those who would lead us into bad behaviors and instead to listen to God's call to live a life worthy of being called Christina. You can help our children become attuned to God's call by familiarizing them with stories from the Gospel; worshipping with the community on Sundays, and praying regularly at meals, bedtime, and in good times and bad. Be a good shepherd; teach your child how to listen for and recognize God's call. God will speak to all who call on him.

Amen.
